Handy Fixers was recommended to us when we were looking for help to fix significant storm damage including significant water proofing rectification works.

The works had not progressed for over a year with the original contractor and within weeks of the job being assigned to Handy Fixers, the issues were addressed with works completed to a "better than original" standard.

The entire process was managed by the professional and friendly team members with diligence and expertise. Regular communication ensured we were kept informed of the progress of the works. We now recommend Handy Fixers to many of our clients' seeking commercial and larger scale property works."
